Two Wanton Women Come to Blows Over

THE AFFECTIONS OF A LOVER

The Whole Neighborhood Adjacent to Waterloo Street Torn Up With Excitement-No Arrests.

A serious fraces occurred on Waterloo street last might in which one of the inmates of a Waterioo street dive was nearly killed.

It seems that one of the women in Neilie Lee's bagnio trespassed on the rights of a woman farther down the street by stealing away the affections of her lover. The girls came here recently from Battle Creek, and, it is said, were enemies in that city. Last night they met on the street in front of the Lee house, when a fight ensued. Beer glasses were freely used and one girl was severely cut in the neck. Before medical aid could be secured she came very near bleeding to death. Two physicians were soon summoned, who staunched the blood. The woman and her friends refuse to give her name. No report was made of the fracas in neighborhood was aroused by the fight.

DISAGREE OVER A CONVEYANCE. Anna Bonfoy Wants to Have a Property

Interest Adjudicated. Late yesterday afternoon Anna Bonfoy filed a bill in chancery with the clerk of the circuit court against her husband Frank Bonfoy and James Hayne praying for a decree granting her permission to sell her right of dower in certain property. The bill sets forth that the plaintiff and her husband bought ten lots on Nanenga, Coating & Mennema's addition of Walter E. Moore for $2,500 giving a mortgage to Moore for $550. By the efforts of both bushand and wife the mortgage was reduced to $250. Mr. Bonfoy then executed another mortgage to The villagers are always extremely Moore for $550, a portion of which was careful of their good cattle, watching for the purchase money. The plaintiff them well and keeping them grazing on ays she refused to sign the latter mort. the border of fields where they are gage when it was presented to her. Julius M. Jamison subsequently obtained possession of the two mortgages. It is alleged that Mr. Jamison and James Bayne then negotiated a deal with Bonfoy whereby they were to with Bonfoy whereby they were to trade a photograph gallery outfit to him for his property. Mrs. Bonfoy again refused to sign the conveyance papers and she avers that Jamison informed the parties that they could conclude the negotiations without the consent of Mrs. Bonfoy, as the only right she had in the property was a contingent dower right, and as he owned both mortgages he would begin foreclosure procedings at once, and out her off from her interest. The deal was made and the plaintiff claims the photograph gallery was not worth more than $500. Jamison foreclosed the mortgages, and Bayne made no effort to redeem the property. Mrs. Bunfoy procured $923.25, the amount of the mortgages, and tendered it to Jamison, but he would not assign them to her. By legal action in the circuit court in August, the mortgages were assigned to her and Mr. Bayne refused to pay her right of dower or her interest in the mortgages. She now asks that the old suit be revived and that she may recover her interest in the property. The property is now valued at $3,500. e Potatoes When Drunk.

Charles Aldrich was convicted in police court vesterday of stealing a bushel of potatoes from Charles Mc-Coll's store on Ellsworth avenue, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or in default of payment to be confined in all for thirty days. He was committed. He claimed he took the potatoes while he was drunk Saturday night and sold them for 30 cents.

Asks for a New Trial.

Herman Henneberger filed a notice of a motion for a new trial with the clerk of circuit court yesterday in his case against Elias Matter. The suit was begun to collect a note given by Mr. Matter for an interest in an automatic car coupler patent. The note was given for $750 and was subsequently purchased by Henneberger. At the trial a verdict of no cause of action was rendered.

Police Court Notes.

The complaint of breaking and entering freight cars made against William Harrison and Charles H. Daniels, was withdrawn in police court yester-day and they were convicted of simple largeny. They were committed to the county jail for easty days each. Olof Johnson and James P. Roe were GOOD WORDS FOR THE TIGER. The Ferocious Autmai is a Necessity in India—Some of Its Uses.

The tiger is not such a very great misfortune to the neighborhood where he happens to have fixed his abode. His chase gives pleasure, excitement and exercise to the many hard-worked officials, whose lives would be those of uninterrupted routine were it not for this recreation. It is also of great assistance to the district officials, according to Harper's Magazine, as it makes them much better acquainted with police headquarters, though the whole | the people under their charge, and they get to know out-of-the-way places, which, but for this sport, they would never have visited. The tiger is a very necessary evil in India, and were it not for him deer and wild boar would increase to such numbers that the cultivation of the land would become an immense hardship and almost an impossibility. He keeps them within bounds and relieves the ryots from watching their fields by night in the unhealthy localities.

We are accustomed in England to hear constant war preached against this animal for its total extermination, but this ought only to be in cases of the destructive cattle killer or man eater, and these ought to be got rid of at any cost. The villagers are always extremely working, and would be very sorry if charm, and the critic can tell her escort the tiger were exterminated. Of course they themselves are often carried off by man eaters. But tigers of this class are luckily very scarce.

Tigers are still numerous in the state of Mysore, and panthers have often been killed in the city itself quite recently. I believe that in Mysore the largest tigers in India are to be found. Some have been killed quite lately measuring nearly ten feet six inche from the nose to the tip of the tail. There are two kept by the maharajah in the courtyard of his cattle stables that measure very little short of that.

HIS SHOT WAS A BULL'S EYE. But He Didn't Expinin That He Painted

the Target After Firing. A New York broker, who is well known on the stock exchange for his proclivities as a practical joker, made considerable fun for some of his associates a few days ago. He is sojourning in the country at the present and dispensing hospitalities to a number of his comrades. He is rated among them as a particularly bad marksman, and so it was, says the New York Herald, that when he took numbers of them around back of the barn one morning and showed them a target painted on the back of the barn and a builte imbedded in the very enter of the bull's-eye, the first inquiry was:

"Who fired the shot?" "I fired it and from a distance of two hundred yards, too," was his earnest

"Oh! rats! rats!" "Come off, now."

"You could not hit the barn at that

But he persisted in his assertion and finally suggested that perhaps some of his friends would like to bet on it. He got two bets, one for a dinner for the crowd and another for a case of champagne. He then brought out two witnesses who solemnly declared that they had seen the shot fired by him from a distance of two hundred yards and from a rifle. The witnesses were beyond suspicion and the bets were paid.

During the jubilee that followed the broker confessed that he had painted the target on the barn after he had

ORCHID TEA.

A Beverage of Which Frenchison Are Said to He Fond.

It appears, from a London paper, that Frenchmen have been drinking orchid tea for tilty years, and that the consumption of this expensive delicacy has much increased of late. The orehid from which the tea is made is a member of one of the handsomest and bon and Mauritius, and the scientific know it as Angroecum fragrans. The commercial virtue of the plant lies in the strong perfume of its leaves. The genus is allied to vanilla, and it is only necessary "to touch the fresh leaves for the fingers to remain impregnated with the aroma," which remains after the leaves have been dried. This process is very simple, apparently. No heat is applied and no coloring matter.

The decoction is equally easy. You just lay the leaves and stalks in cold water, about one gramme to a teacup-more or less, according to tasteclose the vessel tight and boil for ten minutes. The tea may be sweetened, and milk and rum bring out the flavor of the vanilla more strongly. It is as good cold as hot, and may be warmed up without deterioration. Material enough for fifty cups is sold in Paris for two francs fifty centimes. It is called fabam, as in Mauritius.

Woman's Close Perception. "If a woman would only take me in from head to foot, instead of from heel to crown," said a pretty girl, "somehow this street criticism wouldn't seem so insulting, but you positively feel like a wooden doll under that searching glance that cares not for your features but only the details of your gown." And how observant most women are! defect and likewise takes in every how many shoe-buttons are missing or whether the shoe-laces are silk or not, as well as the sort of trimming and its arrangement on your gown and whether you wore flowers or feathers in your hat. An Untaught Heathen's Views.

The untaught heathen is sometime wiser than we give him credit for being. So is the mother of his children. One of these mothers has recently expressed her opinion to a woman missionary and the missionary's reply is not given. But here are the words of the heathen woman: "You can read and write, but what is the use of that? You will have to stand before God and give an account of your conduct. He created you to get married, and he will punish you. You should repent and get married at once. Then, perhaps, you will be forgiven. and you may come and teach us to read and write."

Abraham Lincoln

When leaving his home at Springfield. Ill., to be mangurated as president of the United States, made a farewell address to his old friends and neighbors. in which he said, "Neighbors, give your boys a chance."
